Cellbone Facial Oil :

Massaging your skin using Cellbone Facial Oils can provide many health benefits besides relaxation.

- Improving your blood circulation by stimulating the surface of your skin. This creates heat and stimulation that increases blood flow which can help the texture and complexion of your skin.
- Improving your mood by releasing endorphins and relieving stress and tension.
- Removing dead skin cells and dirt by massaging to exfoliate and brighten skin. This helps to prevent blemishes and infection.
- Helps prevent wrinkles and pigmentation by increased hydration to the skin. The increased circulation helps remove toxins and firms and plumps sagging areas by improving muscle tone.

How to use Facial Oils to massage the face:

1. Apply a small amount to hands and rub together to warm the oil.
2. Gently spread the oil all over face.
3. Massage with two fingers of each hand in circular motions starting at the forehead and temples.
4. Eye Area: Apply pressure underneath the eyebrows and slowly follow the arc of your brow bones. Repeat several times.
5. Cheeks: Apply pressure underneath cheekbones and massage outwards and upwards towards your temples and repeat.
6. Jaw line/Neck: Slowly massage jaw line, starting from the chin back towards ears.
